The federal government recently approved and funded The Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act which creates emergency financial aid grants for students through the Higher Education Emergency Relief Fund (HEERF). The purpose of the emergency funds is to assist students with the expenses incurred as it relates to the disruption of campus operations as a direct result of COVID-19, such as moving all campus-based classes from the campus locations to the virtual format.

The CARES Act will provide emergency financial aid grants to students "for expenses related to the disruption of campus operations due to coronavirus which include eligible expenses under a student's cost of attendance, such as food, housing, course materials, technology, health care, and childcare".
